On 7.12 (Tue), in the afternoon, we organize an International Eurasian Academy of Sciences (IEAS) meeting. The meeting is part of the Atmospheric and Climate Competence Center (ACCC) Impact Week program <https://www.acccflagship.fi/index.php/accc-impact-week-2021/> and brings together the IEAS – Europe Centre Academicians and the international collaborators of the PEEX program.

The aim of the meeting is to discuss synergies between IEAS centres in Russia, China, and Europe under development, in particular in the Northern Eurasia, the new Silk Road Belt Economic Region and how to better bridge current activities. Furthermore, recently elected, new IEAS Europe Academicians will give short presentations.

Before this meeting (at 12-16 Helsinki time) we have the Zilitinkevich's memorial seminar. Physicists Sergej Zilitinkevich (1936-2021) is an example of a life of service to Science and of having desire to understand the foundations of the Universe with a deep respect for values and traditions of humanity.
